EDUCATOR EDITION TRAINING

“Put your school on the road to systematic vocabulary instruction.”

A rich vocabulary is essential to overall reading comprehension and specific content knowledge, yet trying to squeeze in vocabulary instruction can be a challenge. Vocabulary.com solves this problem by providing a platform for self-paced, differentiated word-learning that can be integrated with curriculum. Students independently learn the words they need to know through an engaging game format, while teachers apply the insights gained from our educator dashboard to monitor progress and inform instruction. It's vocabulary learning in the service of improved literacy, stronger communication skills, and higher academic achievement for all students across the curriculum.

Teachers come away from our training session with:

- ❖ A deeper understanding of the correlation among vocabulary knowledge, reading comprehension, and student achievement
- ❖ A grounding in research-based best practices for vocabulary learning
- ❖ A practical knowledge of key Vocabulary.com features
- ❖ Guided practice using Vocabulary.com's Educator Edition and dashboards, including individual student progress monitoring, strategies for assessment, and applying data-driven insight to inform instruction
- ❖ Actionable ideas for harnessing students' competitive spirit to master words and to make vocabulary learning an integral part of your school's culture
